vas a straight-away walk for two hours, the only changes made to vary the monotony were changes from fours to platoons. The parade occupied two hours in passing a given point, and at the end of the march a light rain began falling, which quickly scattered those wearing p.umes, who were afraid they would got their fine apparel soiled. In point of numbers the parade was the largest ever seen in the city, but from a spectacular standpoint, it was very poor, and the crowds began leav

There were one or two casualties in

The speech, as thus interpreted, is merely in warning to the cheese-paring Freissinning social democrats that their eagerness for saving money at the expense of the army will not be tolerated by the government in the next session.

The emperor, moreover, is said to ave acknowledged explicitly that the two-year term was the basis of the new bill, as has been generally understood. The principle of the new army bill, round which the combat of politica parties is gathering, is the Scharne

Horst principle that the whole people must bear weapons.

The bill was conceived by the em

Meeting of the Supreme Lodge in Kansas City Yesterday.

LAWS FROM WHICH THERE IS NO APPEAL

Locks and Bars-Honored Names Among the Pythian Sisters-The Merchants' Turnout.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 24.-The suprome lodge of the Pythian order for the world is in session. At 11 o'clock yesterday morning the big doors of the Scottish Rite hall were open; the su-preme chancellor and the representa-tives who compose the supreme lodge passed through, the doors closed with s bang, the supreme outer guard as-sumed his station, and thus the compli-ented machinery which moves the Pythan order was put in motion. The seventeenth session of the supreme lodgs was then in session, and to the rank was then in session, and to the rank and file there was nothing more. The great doors shut in the beauties of the hall, and the supreme outer guard procluded peoping at the key hole.

In the preliminaries leading up to the formal opening of the first session were included a reception to the supreme ledge at the grand open house, and addresses of welcome by the mayor of the city and the governor of the state, and by dignitaries high in the order of Pythian brotherhood.

This, the first formal public greating city took it upon themselves to have a parade of their own in honor of the visitors, and with umbrellas of Pythian colors they marched to the various hotels of the city and then to Camp Shaw, where they serenaded all the knights and then went in a body to Exposition park, where they viewed the fireworks which were the feature of the expression.

This, the first formal public greeting to the assembled representatives of the order, was as unostentations as it could order, was as unostentatious as it could well be. The presence of panoplied larights lent dignity and added a picturesque coloring, but in all the hearty welcoming which the sir knights received there were no stilted phrases, no conventional speeches. The greeting was from the heart, and was received in the spirit of the order. The visitors in the spirit of the order. The visitors were made to feel that they were wel-come, and everything within the city which could conduce to comfort was and promptly at the hour appointed every member of the supreme lodge, all the supreme representatives and the supreme chancollor, who temporarily will wield the gavel until his successor shall be chosen, were in their places. Then, in active session, the delibera-tions of the first supreme lodge which ever convened west of the Mississippi

Before the supreme lodge now in session shall have concluded its delib-erations laws of the order for the next two years will have been made. Once two years will have been made. Once made there is no appeal. It is the su-preme body, and as such its delibera-tions at this time will possess the keen-est interest for every member of the order. Yestorday's session comprised only that portion of the scheduled business which mandatory laws require to be done at the first day's session. the report of the committee on credentials, the reports of the grand ladge divisions and the conferring of the grand ladge rank were the only matters considered. Until the departure of the uniform rank title no real husiness will be done. Even mem-bers of the supreme lodge, dignified and stald though they be, find it difficult to get down to work while the uniforms are being worn and the swords are flushing in bloodless strife out at Camp shaw. But when the play is over mork will begin. The supreme lodget, has weighty matters to consider. Its deliberations involve good or bad for an order which has now a membership of more than 400,000 valiant knights and more than 400,000 valiant knights and whose growth has been the marvel of the quarter century in fraternal society circles. Knotty problems are waiting to be solved and questions which require the nicest exactitude in settlement are piled high upon the desk of the supreme chancellor, who must in turn hand them down to be disposed of by the body which, in ts blennial sittings, either makes or mars the prospective increase in the growth of Pythian principles. The supreme officers of the Pythian sisters have all arrived. They have rested and gone to work under differ-ont committees. SEVERS COMMENTS OF JUDGE TAYLOR

Benefit of Its Supreme Officers Than of Its Contributing Members.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 24.—The

fron Hall is now in the hands of a reiver in the person of James F. Failey, well-known wheel manufacturer, of this city and a director of the Mer chauts' national bank. The inevitable end came late yesterday afternoon. The incident of the morning in court was the production of a resolution of the supreme sitting practically indorsing the "investment" of $86,000 of the order's funds in certain worthless se curities by J. Henry Hays of the Mu tual bank. This resolution was signed with the name of Dr. J. T. Younghus band, chairman of the board of trus tees, but on the stand he repudiated the signature and imputed it to Su-preme Vice-fustice Hosmor. The lat-ter was recalled and said he had writ-

Supreme Cashler Davis was again placed on the stand, and produced a number of additional telegraphic or-ders from Somerby to send him money for "legislative work" in sums of $1.000 occasions Somerby had positively or-dered him to send large sums to the cashier of the Mutual bank, thus explaining the order's very large deposits he has been credited with making Mr. Caprivi's military bill was only a conditional one. What the emperor really said was that the German people could not expect to have the service term reduced to two years unless they were willing to pay for it. The numerical increase of the army in accordance with the two-year service plan must be accompanied by increase of appropriations, otherwise the efficiency of the army would be impaired. If the recommend of the property of the army would be impaired. After "his testimony the plaintiffs rested their case at noon, and on their request a court bailiff was ordered to take charge of the order's offices to prevent the removal of papers. The defense offered no testimony except a couple of letters. They filed an amendment to the complaint, and their coun-sel pleaded for time to prepare argu-ment, but the court cut matters short. Judge Taylor said: "Really, gentlemen, I do not think it necessary for any argument in this case. The question is clear and decided, and in my mind there is no question that a receiver should be appointed and the affairs of this order wound up Such management as the officers o this order have been guilty of is such as this court had never heard of in twenty-five years' practice, or in ten years on the bench. It seems to have een managed more for the keeping up of the supreme officers than for the good of the members. It is only a question of limited time until it must close up anyhow. I shall uppoint a reeiver. Have you an order prepared

Mr. Harris? Mr. Harris read a long order appointing a receiver and giving him jurisdiction over all the moneys and property in this and other states. The order was approved by the court. Mr. Hawkins read the form of a cond. He suggested that the penalty be fixed at a million dollars. Judge Taylor said he would fix it at $750,000, remarking that "That would cover the amount of assets at Indianapolis, for, if I am any judge of human nature, he will never realize five cent on the dollar from the Philadelphia loss of life 1 Al be at least 40 per cent. higher than in former years, the present reserves of the German army would not suffice for continuing for any length of time this double fight against France and Russia. Only by putting under arms every available man in the empire could Germany command a large enough reserve to recruit simultaneously a force fighting Russia and a force fighting France.

The increase of the appropriations contemplated by the new bill is said to have been greatly underestimated, the lowest possible figure being 100,000,000 marks. The government, it is said, proposes to raise this sum by adopting the English tobacco tax system and collecting a high tariff at custom houses, while forbidding tobacco culture in Germany. This will necessitate, however, the indemnification of 22,000 tobacco growers in Germany, and will excite as widespread opposition as would an increase of the beer tax, as the lower and middle classes Judge Howe was granted ten days t file a bill of exceptions to the amended complaint and sixty days to except to the evidence. The appeal bond was fixed at $750,000. The receiver will not continue the order in its insurance business. No further assessments will be called and the order's affairs will be

Here's What the Plasterers Think of ROCK PLASTER.

WE THE UNDERSIGNED, contracting plasterers, after much experience and observation, take pleasure in testifying to the practical character of ROUK PLASTER, and while it will remove a not inconsiderable amount of business, namely that of patching, we advocate its use, as it enables us to do work and guarantee the results, and enables us to carry on our trade at all seasons of the year, and modernizes that part of building enterprise which has undergone practically no improvement in the last two thousand years, placing the business of the plasterer on the same footing as that occu-pied by the other trades through the advent of machinery and improved methods.
